The Greater London Grand Prix was this year hosted by Kent Gun Club at Dartford. They made everyone very welcome and Ken Newman and Bob Barrett had worked hard to accommodate the Greater London County shooters and also provide us with first class targets on the day.

The conditions on the day were perfect, with bright sunshine, a cloudless sky, and a slight breeze and what must have been the hottest day of the year so far made it a great day to be out shooting.

There were a total of 17 shooters 13 of which were from Greater London. The competition was eventually won after a close battle by John Parry who took the two titles of Grand Prix Champion and Veteran Champion, and closely followed by Ron Richards.

The Ladies category was won again by last year's winner Karen Allen with another good performance, and Sophie Weller who took the Colts category.
